Video Transcript:

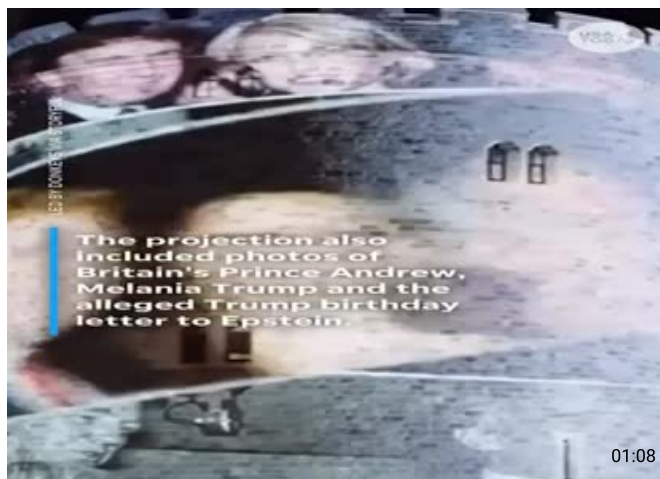

The Sanhedrin has sent Donald Trump a letter asking him to be part of their divine counsel and to pretty much institute the Noah Hyde laws. So this has a lot of different implications and we will look into it in this video from this article on Israel 365 news as well as some other information on all this stuff here. So this is the article the Sanhedrin letter to Trump you have been elected to fulfill a heavenly mission. So before we look into this just in case anybody doesn't know what the Sanhedrin is let's watch this video on what they are so we can have a little bit more of a better understanding. The Sanhedrin was a group of religious leaders who appear many times in the New Testament often clashing with Jesus and even each other. The Sanhedrin made up the highest Jewish religious authority in the first century AD. Their claimed origin was with the 70 elders appointed by Moses and the Torah but there doesn't seem to be much evidence backing this up. There are no references to the Sanhedrin in the Old Testament or in other ancient records. The Sanhedrin does appear on the scene sometime between the Old Testament and the New. The Sanhedrin likely formed after the Maca being revolt that brought political and religious freedom back to Israel for a time. Despite their late appearance the influence of the Sanhedrin on life in first century Jerusalem was quite large. The Sanhedrin was made up of two main groups the Sadducees and Pharisees. It is these two groups with their differing beliefs about the law that caused much of the tension recorded in the Gospels. The Sadducee Party was made up of chief priests of the Jerusalem Temple who claimed to be descendants of Zadok the high priest of King Solomon's time. Not all priests were Sadducees but all Sadducees were priests and aristocratic priests at that. The Sadducees strictly believed that only the law the five books of Moses should be held as God given. They rejected the oral law of the Pharisees and any ideas of a spiritual world beyond God existing. The Pharisees who made up the main body of the Sanhedrin focused mainly on synagogues and public life. The very title means separated ones and they were viewed as teachers of the people. They held onto the Mosaic Law and also the oral law, a law code about the Mosaic Law. The main clash between the Pharisees and Jesus was over Jesus' criticism of this oral law. The Sanhedrin, though often divided, held much influence in Jerusalem and when united on an issue could force real action by Rome. So these are the types of Jewish leaders that Jesus was clashing with on a regular basis because they are very strict enforcers of the Jewish law. A lot of the Jewish law doesn't even come from the Old Testament. A lot of it is from the Talmud. So I guess before we get into this letter, let's just look a little bit about what the Talmud is because the Talmud is definitely not inspired by God. The Old Testament is written by God, the Old Testament prophets were prophets of God but the Talmud is 100% not from God. Here are some of the things it says. Obviously, you can't even read some of this stuff but if a goi or someone who is a Gentile, pretty much someone who is not a Jew, hits a Jew, they must be killed. When a Jew murders a Gentile, there will be no death penalty. If you eat with a goi, it's the same as eating with a dog. It really goes on and on and it gets even worse and worse. Some of the things that the Talmud says about the Lord Jesus Christ, the Savior of humanity, the Messiah are just absolutely horrendous and demonic and blasphemous. The Jewish people in their rejecting of the Lord Jesus have built up for themselves even more of a type of law and more of man-made traditions. Just like Jesus said to them in the Gospels, they adhere to their man-made traditions even more than what the word of God says and to the point of where they are rejecting the ways of God to continue in their man-made traditions. This is the group of Jewish leaders that are attributed to the Sanhedrin. Again, we can learn a lot from the law. We see in Paul's writing often times he says, does this mean that the law is void because the law is fulfilled through the Lord Jesus and us following him? He says, God forbid, you can actually learn a lot from the law. The law, there's still a lot to learn from the Old Testament and it's all a fulfillment but is fulfilled through Jesus Christ. ~~When we follow him, then we are not tied to the law in the same way as we were before.~~ Recently through following him, the law is fulfilled and a lot of the things about the Old Testament and the law and the commandments. We still follow, but it's through the fact that Jesus fulfilled them and we follow him. ~~(Here's a little bit about this letter here that was sent to Donald Trump from this Jewish group, the Sanhedrin. Let's read some of this here. The Sanhedrin published an open letter to President Donald Trump, blessing him for putting faith at the forefront by establishing a White House Faith Office. The Sanhedrin called on the President to establish an international divine court for all nations. Here's the letter. It just kind of gets into the detail. It talks about how Donald Trump, he set up during the National Prayer Breakfast. He set up a White House Faith Office and that's headed by Pastor Paulo White who's been an outspoken supporter of Israel. I don't know too much about her to be honest, but I have her different opinions. What kind of gets interesting is this whole divine court that they want to set up. The Noah Hyde Laws, when we look at exactly what those are. Here's some of the key points in their letter to President Donald Trump. If you go, you can actually read the whole thing outlined here. Again, it shows this temple coin with Donald Trump in a picture of Cyrus and then a picture of the third temple on the back. Just incredible to see what we are seeing. We're for sure living in these are prophetic times moving towards the building of the third temple, peace treaties in the Middle East. All the nations eventually being gathered together against Jerusalem. I mean, the stuff is happening right before eyes. It's incredible to see. Here again is two of the highlights in the article or the letter. It says when his shem or God gave the children of Israel the Torah, he provided an ethical standard for the entire world. The standard is known as the seven commandments of Noah, which form the basis of universal morality. When a person accepts the seven Noah Hyde Laws, they receive divine blessing. So we're going to look into those Noah Hyde Laws in just a moment. But this is what they're trying to have Donald Trump set up through his international through the international divine court, which is like pretty much a religious court system. Almost like a worldwide religion type of type of thing. It says we invite you to meet with the Sanhedron court rabbis in Jerusalem to discuss the establishment of an international divine court, an IDC for all nations. This court would be based on the seven universal commandments given to Noah and reaffirmed at Mount Sinai, Mount Sinai, a foundation for global peace and divine justice. So what are these Noah Hyde Laws? The year is a website on them listing exactly what they are. The Noah Hyde Laws are as follows. Do not deny God or perform idolatry. Do not blaspheme God's name. Do not murder. Do not engage in illicit relations forbidden by the Torah. Do not steal. Do not eat any part of a live animal. Establish courts of law. The main problem for sure with this whole thing because again, if we actually look at the 10 commandments or stuff that was given to Moses in the Torah and how the world and the nations start to follow these things, that would actually be good because those things are from God. The more people who would follow the 10 commandments, the world would be a much better place. But when we get into what this is, this is mixing the religious beliefs of the Sanhedrin and the Talmud in relation to what they believe here with the Noah Hyde Laws. When it says do not deny God or perform idolatry, according to the Noah Hyde Laws and definitely according to the Talmud, accepting Jesus Christ and professing him as the Messiah would 100% to them be I. And also be blasphemy. When we look at what the Noah Hyde Laws say in accordance with how they used to be enforced, that's where people start to get a little bit concerned. The seven Noah Hyde Laws are a set of universal moral principles that were given by God to Noah and his descendants after the flood, applying to all of humanity. These laws prohibit idolatry, blasphemy, murder, illicit sexual relations, robbery, eating a limb taken from a live animal and failing to establish courts of law. Here's where the issue comes into play. Violators are subject to the penalty of death. So according to the Noah Hyde Laws and if this was enforced to the same standard that it used to be enforced during the time of Jesus, this was the reason Jesus was crucified because they thought that he was blaspheming God saying that he is one with God and the Son of God. Jesus was subject to the death penalty because he broke their religious beliefs. Which again, following the Lord Jesus and professing him as the truth or any other God besides the God of the Torah, which they believe which again is the God of which is the father of the Lord Jesus, but then they're rejecting the Son. And if you don't have the Son, you don't have the father either. Again, it gets a lot more complicated when we're talking about the Jewish people and their covenants and all that stuff, but under the Noah Hyde Laws, if this was instituted. professing the Lord Jesus as the Savior and the God would be blasphemy. And technically under the way they used to be instituted, you know, how they used to deal with the violators of it was the subject to the death penalty. Again, the same as the Lord Jesus. Now I do want to point this out just for reference. This is from 2017. Sanhedrin calls on President Trump to uphold the seven Noah Hyde Laws. So back when Donald Trump was elected the last time, they came to him and tried to get him to once again, institute pretty much a universal laws, the Vine laws, almost a religion, one world religion type of system to get people to all adhere to the seven Noah Hyde Laws. So this is pretty interesting for sure. And a lot of the things that we're just seeing, it's setting up the different types of systems that are prophesied to happen. One world religion, the third temple, everyone coming together under certain beliefs. I mean, just the fact that Israel and the religions of the world are becoming the high lighted center. We're seeing Europe being~~ invaded by Islam. That's being that's taking over all over the place. I mean, we're seeing like religious wars and religious ideologies overtake the entire world. The Bible is for sure playing out all around us. We'll see exactly what comes from this. Obviously Donald Trump didn't institute this last time. And I don't know if they're calling to institute this with the same penalties that used to be enforced, forced like the death penalty. But again, it has to be pointed out because when they say that blasphemy is one of the main laws that has to be implemented and has to be adhered to. That's leading down dangerous path because they're saying the Lord Jesus talking proclaiming him is blasphemy. And we know in the last days in Revelation, those who profess Jesus Christ as Lord and reject the system, they will be beheaded for their faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. So we're really seeing different prophetic things filled up and even just the conversation of the possibility of rejecting Jesus leading to something that used to be a death penalty is a fulfillment of what's coming in Revelation. Just shows that these types of prophecies are at least brewing and in the works of coming on the world scene and they will eventually put your trust in the Lord Jesus Christ because he is one with the father. He's the only way to the father with him. Jesus God the father and the Holy Spirit altogether. They're the only way to find true relationship with God and life on this earth. So I hope and pray you'll do that. Let me know what you think in the comments about this pretty crazy stuff. Hope and pray your well. God bless.

Donald Trump has reportedly tasked Jared Kushner with drafting plans for the "day after" any prospective ceasefire is agreed between Israel and Hamas.

The Trump insider—who is officially a private citizen—was spotted in Miami sitting down with Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu's right-hand man, Ron Dermer.

Businessman and investor Kushner, who is also Ivanka Trump's husband, does not hold an official title in the second Trump administration, but appears to have a role in the peace efforts.
